With that said, here are the ten qualities of every ladies man:

Quality #1 – Playful and Flirty

The first quality that you need before you can become a ladies man is playfulness. I have not yet met a player who isn't playful with women.

More often than not, guys who are not good with women are guys who are "too serious" when they're around women.

If you're one of these guys...well...there's only one thing I can say to you, "STOP BEING SO DAMN SERIOUS, DARNIT!"

To put it bluntly...

If you're playful, women will think you're cool; if you're too serious, women are going to think you are a "tool."

It doesn't matter if it's part of your personality to be "serious." There are times and situations in life when you have to be very serious, and there are also times and situations when you have to be very playful.

I'll give you an example. If you were working as an air traffic controller, I would tell you to be very serious with your job and be very cautious at work.

But let's say you're just out on a first date with a woman after work. Then I would tell you to let go and be very playful with her!

Here's the bottom line:

If you're too serious with flirting, then you're not flirting at all. Even if you follow every step I've told you to do and say every line I've taught you to say, you're not actually flirting. To become a Smart Flirter, you must let go of your worries and become more playful!

Here are some examples of how you can be playful with a woman.

- 1) Poke her.
- 2) Tackle her.
- 3) Lift her up.
- 4) Challenge her to arm wrestling.
- 5) Play thumb war with her.
- 6) Give her a piggy back ride...and run as fast as you can.
- 7) Throw something tiny at her. Then look away and whistle as she looks at you.
- 8) Steal something from her and make her wrestle you to get it back.
- 9) Twirl her around.
- 10) Pinch her nose and shake it like she's a plush toy.

Use these sample techniques as a blueprint for coming up with your own techniques. Remember that the key is to be playful and focus on having fun instead of "getting results!"

Quality #2 – “Truly” Sees Romance (Or Sex) As an Important Part of His Life

The second quality of the ladies man is that he sees romance (or sex) as a vital part of his life. He doesn't just see it as something he “wants”. He sees it as something that he needs to allocate time and resources for. The ladies man sleeps, eats, works, and romances women. Spending quality time with women is just another routine to him.

A lot of readers email me to tell me how badly they want a girlfriend. But at the same time, they are unwilling to give up work, studying, or video games for their social or love lives.

Kinda ironic, isn't it?

Yes. It's very important to work hard.

Yes. It's also very important to study hard.

But playing hard is important too if you want to become a well-rounded person. And it's especially important if you would like to become a ladies man.

In my opinion, life is all about priorities. Everyone has the same amount of time in a day. Successful people get more done and achieve more than ordinary people because they manage their time better.

Work, study, and video games will always expand to take up as much time as you give them. This is why you must learn to block time off for other activities.

Make it a habit to go out at least one night a week with your friends, and make it a habit to ‘hang out’ once a week with a different woman (even as friends) for coffee or lunch. Everyone can afford to invest that much time in a potential love life.

Make these dates something for you to look forward to. You may even end up increasing your productivity because you'll be working harder before the date and getting more done!

And if you are REALLY serious about meeting women, then you should invest a LOT of time and resources into improving your skills.

REALLY put yourself into the shoes of a ladies man and go out ALL the time. Flirt with EVERY woman you meet. Try to build rapport with women AND men for practice. Save money and get my Smart Dating Course at:

<http://www.datebeautifulwomen.com/ebook.html>

Use my “truth or dare technique” (from the Smart Dating Course) and see how far you can go with each woman. Go out there and crash and burn as much as possible.

Make these actions part of your daily routine, as if flirting with women is just something that you need to do because it's so fun. Heck. Be a little bit obsessed with practicing your skills. Obsession has made many successful men become good at whatever they do – including picking up women.

Make sex and romance important parts of your life (not your fantasy life but your REAL life), and you will live like a Don Juan eventually.

Quality #3 – A Challenge

Of course, you should not mistaken the ladies man's natural need for women as neediness. They are two different things.

Having a need for women means you are acknowledging your natural desire for the fairer sex and making sex and romance parts of your daily routine.

Being needy means you are performing needy actions and sucking up to women because you can't risk losing one.

See the difference?

The ladies man enjoys acting like a challenge. In addition, women enjoy "catching him" just as much as he enjoys picking them up.

Men who act like a challenge automatically intrigue women because:

- They are less predictable.
- They refuse to be dominated by a woman's beauty. (This automatically set them above other men.)
- They raise their social proof by acting like they are in demand. (To the human brain, a guy must be acting like a challenge because he "can.")
- They lead women to take small steps, and each step solidifies the women's interests in them. ("I must really like this guy if I am giving him a backrub...")
- They are more fun.
- They satisfy the woman's primal need for wanting what she can't have.

One thing to remember about being a challenge is that it does NOT mean "acting aloof."

Some guys think that being a challenge means pulling back and acting like you don't like women at all.

WRONG.

If you act aloof, then women are just going to not come to you at all. You'll be what I call a "powerful loner." (The guy who thinks he's all great but never gets any girl.)

Instead of acting aloof, think of being a challenge as like playing with a cat. You throw her a little wool ball and then PULL IT BACK to make her chase after it. Then you bonk her on the head with the ball.

In "dating terms", you throw her a compliment and then tease her when she responds.

Or you "barter" for a kiss when she asks you for a favor...

You bait and then you pull. You bait and then you pull. Rinse and repeat, get it?

Quality #4 – Sensitive

Just because you are acting like a challenge does not mean you have to be insensitive. (It's another misconception that many guys have.) Most ladies men out there are extremely sensitive to a woman's needs. Even the abusive assholes and jerks know what emotional buttons they need to push in a woman to keep her attracted. (Think about it...if they didn't, then the woman would just get fed up by all the abuse and leave.)

Here are some tips on how to be sensitive around women:

- 1) Make her feel appreciated. Tease her and act like a challenge, but make her feel appreciated.

- 2) Give her a shoulder to cry on when she's sad, without offering her any solution. Women usually aren't looking for a solution when they come to you. They are looking for emotional support. (Warning: If she's a psycho, don't stick around. Don't try to "save" a woman!)
- 3) Learn to read body language.
- 4) Listen, listen, listen.
- 5) Appreciate her for who she is. (If you don't, why are you still with her?)
- 6) Pause or be silent at the right moments. This will give the impression that you're thinking.
- 7) Understand her primal needs. Not the idealized version of what love "should" be, but her primal needs.
- 8) At the same time, avoid her "slut defence" by understanding what she thinks of love. (Tip: Agree with her words verbally, but communicate with her sexually!)
- 9) Make her really feel like a woman – without sucking up to her, of course.
- 10) Learn to read between the lines.
- 11) Always think about what women really want instead of what they say they want.
- 12) If you have no idea what any of this means, you need to get my Smart Dating Course at <http://www.datebeautifulwomen.com/ebook>.

html so that I can show you everything from scratch.

Quality #5 – Sociable

Over the past few years, I have noticed a COMMON trait among men who are very successful with women.

Of all the "players" I have met and interviewed, they are almost always very sociable.

And I don't mean they are just sociable with women. They are sociable with EVERYONE they come across. No matter how "alpha" they are, they are NATURAL LEADERS that are CHARMISTIC and SOCIABLE. They can strike up a conversation with you in 10 seconds, no matter you're a hot model or just another guy sitting at the bar.

So...before you dream of becoming the kind of guy every woman wants, I want you to take a good look in the mirror and ask yourself the following questions:

- 1) How sociable are you?
- 2) How often do you meet new friends?
- 3) How often do you talk to strangers?
- 4) How often do you raise your opinion at work or at school?
- 5) How easy is it for you to carry on a conversation with a stranger? Not with a hot woman - but with ANY stranger?

As I always say, your love life is merely a REFLECTION of your life in general. So if you aren't very sociable with women, chances are, you're just not very sociable at all.

I know these words may sound harsh - but as you know, I always try to show reality, and reality often hurts.

Here's my suggestion:

Before you pursue your dreams of becoming the ladies man every woman wants, perhaps you should take a step back and think about how you can become a more SOCIABLE person first. Not just with women, but with EVERYBODY you meet.

Here are some practical tips on how you can become a more sociable person RIGHT NOW:

- 1) Go out with your friends more often.
- 2) Invite your friends to do things with you.
- 3) Hang out with the "groups" at your workplace or school.
- 4) Laugh at peoples' jokes and make them feel comfortable around you.
- 5) Be naturally interested in other people.
- 6) Say "thank you" when others compliment you.
- 7) Don't be "too modest" when people center turn their attention on you. Thank them (rule number six) and compliment them back.
- 8) Go out AT LEAST twice with your friends every week.

Quality #6 – *Appears To Be In Control

Another quality of the ladies man is that he always appears to be in control. He could really be peeing his pants inside, but to the outside world, he always has a big smile on his face.

(To learn how to control your state, check out my “Confidence With Dating” program at: <http://www.confidencewithdating.com> )

Of course, most of the time these players ARE in control. They control their state as much as they can to appear in control and they try to stick to environments that “level out the playing field” for them as often as possible.

This is why many players prefer picking up women in the nightclub. In the “real world”, the guy with the Porsche will get all the social proof. Inside, the guy with the most artificial social proof (such as knowing the D.J., hanging out with a bunch of hot girls on the dance floor, or wearing a pimped up outfit) will get the most women.

Outside the club, the ladies man is a nobody. Inside, he is the king of his own realm.

Of course, I am not condoning you to fake your way into a woman’s pants by building up fake social proof. It will only hurt you in the long run.

That’s why I want you to think about how you can be a master of your own realm no matter where you go.

There are people who excel (or at least try their best) at whatever they do, and I want you to be one of them.

That’s actually one of the good things about life. Most guys don’t bother to try hard. So if you try harder than most people, you will almost be guaranteed to be better than 75% of the population out there, which is already enough to score you a lot of brownie points. If you have a lot of dedication and try even harder, you will do even better than that.

Here's my environmental constant theory:

A successful person will always try to make HIMSELF the "constant variable" in any environment. He understands that while his environment may change frequently, his attitude towards these different environments will always be the "constant" that remains the same.

Here's a good example:

If a man has a negative outlook on life, no matter what environment you put him in or what opportunities you offer him, he'll probably fail.

But if he has a positive outlook on life, then he'll survive in tough environments and do very well under good conditions.

Think about how this applies to your own state when you go out and meet women!

Quality #7 – Physically Sexual

The ladies man loves to express himself physically. He enjoys having physical contact with women and he feels comfortable using body contact to flirt with women.

The "chump", on the other hand, tends to believe that women will think he's a pervert if he tries to make any physical contact with them. He has been conditioned to think that he should hide whatever sexual or physical needs he has.

Here's a short quiz taken from the Smart Dating Course (<http://www.datebeautifulwomen.com/ebook.html>):

- 1) Can you look into a woman's eyes with desire without getting nervous and looking away in shame?
- 2) Can you make out with a woman without tensing up?
- 3) Can you walk around naked in front of a woman without feeling any embarrassment?
- 4) Can you admit to a woman that you are “shallow” and love women who are hot and beautiful?

If you have answered “no” to any of these questions, then you have a lot to work on.

Remember: If you want to be good with women, then you must first become comfortable with the idea with being with a woman!

Here are two exercises for you to try:

- 1) Be more physical with women from now on. It doesn't mean you have to hit on them or touch them sexually. Just have more “casual”, friendly contacts with them. Be playful and get them into play wrestling matches with you. Be a bit childish and poke them or pinch them lightly. Touch their elbows or knees when you talk. Cover their eyes from behind and get them to guess who you are.
- 2) Try to convey sexual communication through your eyes and body language instead of through words. Instead of asking for a kiss, stare down at her lips and then look into her eyes again. Instead of telling her she's hot, let her catch you checking her out. Work on expressing yourself through your body language instead of through your words.

Quality #8 – Inviting

The ladies man loves attention. He loves bringing women (and men) into his own realm.

He doesn't follow. He invites.

Here's a good analogy. In opera, it seems to the audience that the opera singer is sending blasts and blasts of powerful sound waves to them. But a good opera teacher will tell you that when you're singing, you should sing like you're bringing the audience into YOUR world. You don't try to sing to them. You sing to get them to come to you.

Dating is the same. Don't just send your energy to the woman sitting across the table. Instead, use your energy to draw her CLOSER to you. Invite her into your world so that she can be amazed by it!

Quality #9 – Willing To Bounce Back From Failure and Do What Others Refuse To Do

The ladies man is persistent. He does not mind rejection. He is strong enough to know that his self-identity should not be defined by a woman's attitude towards him. And in order to bounce back from rejection and achieve more success than the average chump, he's willing to do what others refuse to do.

In this world, the more you do things that "unsuccessful" people refuse to do, the more success YOU will have as a Smart Dater.

For example, if the average guy refuses to flirt at all because he lacks the skill and has no motivation to learn, then all you have to do is to flirt A LOT more than he does if you want to get all the girls.

If they refuse to approach women who are beautiful, that's also good news for you. You can approach these women yourself. (Guess who will get them?)

If they refuse to expand their social circle, let them sit at home while you go out and meet friends.

If they refuse to act like a challenge, GOOD FOR YOU! It will be so much easier for you to act like a challenge in front of women because other guys are so "easy".

If they refuse to act sexual, then act sexual and spark chemistry with all the girls they DON'T get.

Whatever they refuse to do, YOU'll do it yourself, get it?

The same concept also applies to life as well.

If other people are too lazy to get higher education, then you should go for it so you will stand out.

If other people are too lazy to make sales calls, then just call more people than they do.

If other people are too lazy to "go the extra mile", then just go the extra mile and you'll be the winner.

Get it?

But don't forget that this rule works both ways. If successful people are doing things that you refuse to do because of whatever excuses you have in your mind, then you're in trouble.

Because they are getting the success that you might have gotten for yourself if you had just tried.

So...ask yourself...

Compared to the guys that are REALLY great with women...

Do you flirt as much?

Do you experiment and fail as much as they do?

Do you bounce back from failure like they do?

Do you seek the knowledge to improve your game like they do? (Hint: Do you have my Smart Dating Course?)

Quality #10 – Knowledgeable

This brings me to my next point. The last trait that the ladies man has is “romantic intelligence.”

“Romantic intelligence” is a phrase I have come up with to define a person's dating skills. A man with a high “romantic intelligence” will do better with women than a man with a low “romantic intelligence”.

For example, a nerd who has never talked to a woman besides his mother will have a very low romantic intelligence, while a player who has been scoring women since he was 13 will have a very high romantic intelligence.

Just like any kind of intelligence, romantic intelligence needs to be nourished. The nourishment process is very linear. The sooner you pick up your dating skills, the sooner you'll become successful with dating and women.

In the above-mentioned scenarios, the player has an obvious advantage over the nerd. Not because the player is better than the nerd genetically, but because he has been practicing his skills since he was a very young boy.

When the nerd was still playing video games in high school, the player was already talking to girls in the hallway and taking them out for ice-cream after school.

When the nerd was spending all his time on getting the best sword on an online game from the safety of his dorm room in college, the player was experimenting on how to get girls drunk.

Fast forward to today. The nerd is now 25 years old and he FINALLY wants to get a girlfriend. So he starts hitting the clubs and becomes extremely frustrated when women don't even notice him. As for the player, he is actually an ex-player now. After playing women for 7 years, he has finally decided to get involved in a long-term relationship. He's engaged to be married to a woman he loves.

From 15 to 25, the player has ten more years of experience than the nerd. So is it really a big surprise that the nerd is not as good as the player when it comes to getting girls?

In my experience as a dating coach, a man usually has to go through 3 stages:

- 1) The Discovery Stage
- 2) The Experimentation Stage
- 3) The Serious Stage

Trouble will occur if you try to skip to the next stage before you're ready. For example, if you have never dated before, it's a bad idea to marry the first girl who shows interest in you. You may not agree with me because you're madly in love and you think your first girlfriend is "the one" you want, but reality shows that your first love or high school sweetheart is often NOT the woman you'll stay with for life.

Trouble will also occur if you get stuck at a certain stage without ever moving on. For example, a LOT of nerds in their 20's and 30's fall for the "seduction" type of programs out there. They seriously buy into the mottos of the pickup guru's such as "never date a woman unless you have slept with her", "always have more than one girlfriend", and "never like a woman enough to be exclusive with her."

In my opinion, these guys are just trying to live out experiences they never experienced back in high school or college.

This is okay - as long as you keep it under control and DO eventually move on. Feel free to date casually for awhile or maybe have a few casual one-night stands if you want - but if you want to remain in the "game" for more than a couple of years, then you've gotta look at your life seriously. Chances are, you're trying to pick up women in order to mend certain holes in your self-image. (I will probably get flamed by a lot of "pickup-artists" for saying this. But hey...I am here to spread the truth!)

Here's the bottom line...

As a Smart Dater, if you've started late, then you should accelerate your learning curve and "catch up". Instead of spending a few years to figure out the game, you should do it a.s.a.p because you're already behind.

Now...I want you to be honest with yourself. What stage are YOU at?

If you feel you still have quite a bit to catch-up, then you should download my "Smart Dating Course", because unless YOU make a COMMITMENT do something about your love life, it is NEVER going to change.

If you're tired of being frustrated with your love life...if you hate being single and lonely...if you hate women not paying enough attention to you, then you should download my Smart Dating Course RIGHT NOW at:

<http://www.datebeautifulwomen.com/ebook.html>

My course has helped literally thousands of men across the world to meet women, and I am certain it can help you too.

Just look at a couple of the many success stories I have received from my readers:

Hi Marius,

*I just wanted to thank you for your book and your advice. Tonight, I went to play my weekly co-ed volleyball game (it was a my first game since I started reading your ebook) and following your techniques made a world of difference. First of all, I was WAY more confident than I usually am. I flirted like crazy with my friends on my team (including the hot blonde) and the response was awesome. The team we were playing against had some cute girls and I flirted with them too. I made good eye contact and I was funny. Afterwards, some members of my team hung out with the other team and I had good conversations with a couple of the girls. I asked the one girl I was really interested in for her email (we talked about running and I used that as a way), I got a yellow light there. Not necessarily a red light but even if I got a red light, it's like you said, getting rejected is better than not trying at all. I learned something. I learned to turn up the flirting. Next week, we're all supposed to hang out again and that's when I'll turn it up a notch and see what happens. The other girl was actually flirting with me. She was touching me on the arm and seemed really interested. I didn't try to get her info but I know we'll hang out again next week and I'll see what happens. It was so much fun. I was flirting for the sake of flirting and not to "close the deal" like I had done so many times in the past. It's amazing how just having confidence and approaching things in a playful manner can change your outlook and how other people look at you.

I'm looking forward to trying your techniques as much as possible until I perfect them or at least come close. I want to get to the point where I'm asking for numbers/emails all the time.

Thanks again Marius, I'll keep you posted on my progress!

Hi Marius,

Can't believe I'm writing this, but I ordered your stuff this weekend (can't remember just which right now, but I paid $67 for some package) and am definitely impressed. Stuff I sort of knew, or at least heard, but you brought it home. Earlier in the week this one woman blew me off. Last night, after I tried the least bit of your stuff (first on someone else, then on this very woman) we had an excellent evening together. Dude this stuff is true. Way to go. Excellent.

Tim N. from Santa Cruz

*Hey Marius, the couch and movie routine worked on Thursday night. I met a girl online that attended my high school and graduated a year before me. We did not know each other then. After a few change in plans because she got sick, we finally met. I personally think we talked way to much on the phone before the first date. I did not wait, I sat close to her from the start of the movie. I put my hand on her lap on top of her hands and during the movie I asked her to sit down in front of me so I could rub her shoulders. In the process I started rubbing her arms and hitting her breasts with the outside of my hands. I started to smell her hair and her perfume. I then reached down her shirt and pulled her breast out of her bra and started playing with them. I reached all the way down to her pants and she started to tense up so I stopped touching her all together for ten minutes and then I let her get back up on the couch and I started toying with her breast again and this time I put my hands down the back of her jeans and inside her underwear. When the movie was over we started kissing and I un did her pants and that was it I got her in the sack. The only thing she said is that it was crazy on the first date to be having sex, but she really enjoyed herself. My question is she calls here daily is that a bad thing? I thought you're supposed to wait a week to call a girl after the first date? What do you do if she calls you every day?

Thanks

J.M.E from Kansas

Hey Marius,

I just wanted to drop a line and say hi and thank you. The little message at the top of each email says I signed up for your newsletter on 3-19-05. So it's been over two years. I honestly can't remember the moment I signed up or why I did it, but I know that was a rough time for me with women.

Since then, I've truly met and have been dating the girl of my dreams and will be married to her by this time next year. And I would know, because I dated plenty of nightmares...which I now realize from your emails and ebook was my own doing (I was acting like a loser to put up with that crap)! With the strength I've gained through your teachings, I'll never, ever, have to put up with that again.

Because of you I not only met and began dating my fiancé - but won her away from a loser, my self esteem is sky high, I now know how to be happy with her, and very importantly I now know how to maintain the level of attraction and challenge and STAY happy with her!

If you ran a dating university, I truly feel I would have graduated at the top of my class.

I could say thank you a thousand times and it still wouldn't be enough.

Thank you, thank you, thank you!

Your friend,

*Edward O'Hare

Hi Marius,

The more I read your Dating System, the more I find the answers... I'm not just read it. I use it for fine tuning my day. Every day I begin my day with reading couple page of the Dating System find randomly, just for refresh my memory ( that's take 10 minutes ). At the end of the day, I take 30 minutes for tuning my day. That what I call my personal pit stop. I think about what I do in past day. What attitude I did, what I say, who I meet, what point on Dating System I do correctly and naturally, what points are incorrect and non natural.... Then I refer in Dating book and find how to correct for the future my being if I'm live same event.

Marius, that's help me a lot and it's very effective; cause I take care of myself and I prepare me to face off the next day with new knowledge from my recent personal experience. You can use my real identity. I'm proud to take care of myself with the good tool...

Paul Richard from Chicoutimi, Canada

Hey this stuff works I am not much with words, looks and I am 63 years old. I met a real cutie at the Outback restaurant the other night started talking with her and joking around ...ask if she would like to have her hand writing analyzed and she said with a very exciting yes that she would love that well after I done that I got her ph. no. and we have a date to meet up in a few weeks when I get back to see her....she is a jr. in college. I am from a wide spot in the road by the name of Geraldine.
